

Martin Bulinya

Martin K. Bulinya was born on 21 July 1961 in a village called Moiben near Eldoret, Kenya

His paintings show groups of Maasai people in lots of different situations and poses. He gives his paintings simple backgrounds so that the people stand out. The people are given highly detailed clothing with lots of different colours and patterns.

You might notice that the characters in his paintings are not standing still. They all have a different different emotions and some even look like they are talking to each other.
